You will naturally come to Kann's. Our assortments this year break the record for smart style combined with low price, and an almost limitless variety.

Velvet is the material chiefly employed, and the styles are many. As one visitor to our Millinery Parlors stated: "Women may wear any shape they please, and be in style," is in a manner true, but the woman will find that though the assortment of shapes is endless, there has been a great deal of attention paid to the lines of the hat, and therein lies the difference between those of this season and any past season. The trimming is of small moment, but when used must be exactly right, and placed at exactly the right point. Let us show you these new models, which have just arrived.

Our Service Hat has appealed strongly to Washington business women; these are in many shapes, but chiefly noted for their soft crowns and soft brims. In a great variety of colors, though black is the predominating note. Simply trimmed with a band and bow of grosgrain ribbon.
